	There is a social problem that arises few decades ago and now is one of the most controversial matter when taking into account social responsibilities. This push companies on increasing of non-financial reports, on environmental or social performance indicators . This paper will relate and show, through numerical data, how companies ' non-financial reports change after an environmental scandal. For this purpose Volkswagen AG Company will be analysed on how did it changed its behaviour toward sustainability reporting after the 2015 Emission Scandal.
