	An IOS App for orders management within a small distribution business. The device where the App is being executed is an iPad. Likewise, it has a web interface that allows the user to manage clients, suppliers and items, as well as orders. Both web and App work with their own database. Although these databases are synchronised and therefore they keep up-to-date and ensure data consistency. Every single change made on the web side (clients, suppliers or items) will be exported to the App database, in the same way every single order that had been done using the App will be exported to the Web database. The App doesn't allow the user to modify the database but it can be used to check out the information the user need.]
